Neighbors Object To Further Expansion Of Country Club Housing

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Developer Yvon Cormier is ready to open up a new section of his 360-acre Andover Country Club development — but this week abutters said they are still unhappy with sections that have already been started and remain unfinished.

At a public hearing before the Planning Board Tuesday night, the developer's engineer, Paul Ferrante of Dana F. Perkins Associates, said Cormier is requesting a special permit for a cluster development, an earth removal and regrading permit, and approval of a definitive subdivision plan for section four of the development.

The 38.9-acre section is bounded by Beacon Street and Route 495, Ferrante said, and is located at the end of Canterbury Street, where the clubhouse and golf course are located. The proposed cluster development would include 38 house lots and nearly 13 acres of permanent open space, most of it part of the golf course, according to the engineer.

The section would consist of a 40-foot roadway off Beacon Street ending in a cul-de-sac, with a smaller cul-de-sac leading off that roadway and another three-lot cul-de-

Licenses' Permits Approved

During a brief regular meeting at Town Hall Monday night, the Board of Selectmen approved several licenses and permits.

Massachusetts Electric Company was granted permission to erect a pole with wires and fixtures along and across Chandler Road, and to build a line of underground conduits under and across Chandler Road and Bailey Road.

Bay State Gas Company was given permission to excavate at 46 Hidden Road to install gas service, and in Andover Street to renew gas service to 10

Dascomb Road.

Pike School was granted a one-day beer and wine license for Thursday, Oct. 27 and Friday, Oct. 28; and the Christian Formation Center, River Road, was granted one-day all-alcoholic licenses for 1 to 9 p.m. Oct. 1, Oct. 8 and Oct. 15, 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. Oct. 22, and 6 p.m. to 1 a.m. Oct. 29.

And the Andover Center Association will be permitted to close off Main Street, from Elm Square to Punchard Avenue, from 6 to 9 p.m. Friday, Dec. 9, for its annual Family Night.

Dick Collins Day Is Proclaimed

By a unanimous vote of the selectmen, Oct. 15 has been proclaimed Richard Collins Day in Andover. On that Saturday the town will honor one of its most outstanding football coaches: In 25 years, Collins has coached his teams to 135 wins, 76 losses, 13 ties — and two Superbowl victories.

Selectmen William Dalton added that Collins has also achieved "astounding" success as a high school track coach.

The board voted to present a plaque to the coach during the Oct. 15 football game, and Selectman Norma Gammon pointed out that that date will also be the homecoming for her 25th reunion class, the first class to graduate from Andover High School (now West Junior High).

Selectmen Charles Wesson commented that this seems to be "the season for Collinses" in Andover, referring to last Sunday's tribute to J. Everett Collins (no relation.)

Cable TV Problems Being Resolved

Rollins Cablevision has gotten a little better at handling customer complaints, Selectman Donn Byrne said Monday night, but the company's telephone system is still a problem.

Callers report that it usually takes a while to get through to the company's Stevens Street offices. However, Rollins is now making "a good effort" to resolve complaints within 48 hours, Byrne said.

The selectman, who serves as liaison to the town's Cable Advisory Committee, said the committee's next goal is to establish guidelines for local access to the cable system.

Byrne noted that a Rollins crew from Dracut taped much of last Sunday's dedication events at the J. Everett Collins Performing Arts Center, and will create a presentation for the town. The selectmen indicated that it might be possible to show that presentation at the next town meeting — which will be held in the arts center.

Bond Notes For Projects Are Signed

Two town projects will get underway in earnest with a selectmen's vote to sign bond anticipation notes Monday night.

The board voted unanimously to sign $600,000 in bond anticipation notes on the former Purity Supreme site, which will be converted into town parking; and $200,000 in notes on a river road traffic study. The study will be used to help determine necessary improvements to River Road.

By signing the notes, the selectmen authorized the town manager to borrow funds in anticipation of revenues from municipal bonds to be sold at a later date.

B.U. Alumni Plan Osgood Hill Party

The Boston University Alumni Club of Andover will sponsor a wine and cheese tasting party Wednesday, Oct. 12, at 7:30 p.m. at the Osgood Hill Conference Center, Osgood Street. University alumni and guests are welcome.

Participants will sample a number of California wines and a variety of American gourmet cheeses specially chosen to compliment the wine. Several winery representatives will instruct participants on how to purchase and use various wines.

Registration deadline is Wednesday, Oct. 5. For more information, contact Lou Halberstadt, 39 Karlton Circle, Andover.

Girl Scout Council Is Registering

Fall is registration time for Girl Scouts. The Spar and Spindle Girl Scout Council is looking for girls and adults who would like to join the movement.

Adult volunteers are able to share their skills, knowledge and interests by becoming troop leaders, trainers, consultants or members of special forces, task groups, administrative volunteers. Positions are available offering the opportunity to work directly with girls or with other adults for girls.

Membership is open to all girls ages 6 to 17. A girl can become a Brownie Girl Scout at ages 6 to 9 and start to explore the world outside of her family. At ages 9 to 11, as a junior, she can learn skills in the arts, outdoor activities, and health care and deepen her awareness of the physical and social world. At ages 12 to 17 she can focus on her individual areas of interest and explore careers for the future. The Girl Scout program is set up to allow girls, in partnership with caring adults, to explore and discover the world they live in. It helps them to discover their talents and abilities and to transfer these qualities outward to create a positive effect upon their lives and the life of their community.

For information, call the Spar and Spindle Girl Scout Council or the Service Center.

The Spar and Spindle Girl Scout Council serves 54 communities and Fort Devens in northeastern Massachusetts and Southern New Hampshire. It is a member of United Funds and Ways.

Swimming Programs Scheduled

An eight-week swim program for preschoolers with disabilities will be held at Phillips Academy starting Wednesday, Oct. 5, from 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. with Diane Sheehan as instructor.

This program is sponsored by the Massachusetts Easter Seal Society and is supervised by water safety instructors.

Participants will be aided on a one-to-one basis by Easter Seal volunteers. "The swim program," says Yvonne McEvoy, chairperson, "helps the children to develop swimming skills and gain confidence in the water while having fun."

The Easter Seal Society conducts some 42 swim programs each fall and spring in communities across the state. Last year more than 1,100 participants were enrolled in the community swim programs.

For further information, contact the Easter Seal Society's Northeast Office, 20 Ballard Road, Lawrence.

Volunteers with life-saving or water safety certificates are urgently needed. Anyone interested should contact the Easter Seal Society Northeast Office or Mrs. McEvoy, 43 Gage St., Methuen.

League To Have Annual Fall Brunch

Prospective members to the League of Women Voters of Andover are invited to the annual Fall Brunch on Saturday, Oct. 8, between 10 a.m. and noon at the home of Cynthia Hollenbeck, 276 Highland Road, Andover.

Co-chairs of membership, Linda Cassily, 7 Seville Way, and Ann McGovern, 7 Hampton Lane, ask interested persons to contact them to make reservations.

When men, women and youth join the League of Women Voters of Andover they are connected with the national and state organization as well, receiving the benefits of the publications and the lobbying efforts on all levels. The league was instrumental in gaining passage of the 25-year extension of the Voting Rights Act and has been actively fighting to retain the major provisions in the Clean Air Act in Washington during 1983.

In Massachusetts, the LWVM has played a major role in the negotiation of local aid for cities and towns. They have gained some ground into a more equitable education formula for distribution of state monies, a process just begun.

The Andover League is beginning research for a new Know Your Town-Andover publication. The organization points with pride at involvement of Andover leaguers in town boards and agencies during the 62 years of its history. Maintaining a membership of informed and active citizens is the primary goal of the league. Those who have never "tried the league" are invited to attend the brunch to learn more and/or to join in sustaining citizen participation in government.

About Our People

SEPTEMBER 29, 1983

They Share Parental Concerns

By Sue Aucella Deacon

A new baby can be much more than a bundle of joy. As every parent knows, it can also be a bundle of exhaustion, anxiety and confusion. New mothers, home from work for the first time, may find themselves alone and isolated. They may long to meet other mothers, to make a connection with their community — but where do they begin?

Last year, Marlies Zammuto and a group of ten other Andover women stopped waiting for someone to answer that question and came up with their own answer: The Mother Connection. A non-profit organization run by volunteers, the Mother Connection offers "information, support, resources and recreation" to parents of all ages with children of all ages in Andover and surrounding towns, Marlies says.

"Our philosophy is very grass-roots," she explains. "We're not trying to tell parents how to parent. It's more a sharing with other parents. And if we share it, it will be just a lot easier and more enjoyable for us all."

Marlies, a professional educator who has taught parenting classes in Andover since she moved here five years ago, did not overestimate the need for an organization like TMC (as the Mother Connection is informally known). Within three weeks after she and a steering committee mailed out the organization's first newsletter in April 1982, 100 families had responded.

And in just over a year, with very little advertising and a lot of word-of-mouth, membership has grown to 475 families ("an average of a family a day," Ms. Zammuto notes), including 260 Andover families, many from neighboring cities and towns, and some from as far away as Jamaica Plain and Manchester, N.H. TMC now has members in 45 communities in six states.

"It's been a very exciting and challenging project, and it's been very exciting to watch it grow," Marlies says. "We really didn't know what to expect." With their first year behind them, the steering committee now hopes to see more members get more involved, to bring their own ideas to TMC and keep the group moving in new directions.

Ms. Zammuto, a mother of two who speaks of the Mother Connection with great warmth and enthusiasm, emphasizes that TMC is not aimed just at mothers at home with pre-schoolers.

"At least half, if not more, of our members work outside the home," she points out. Members range from age 20 to 76; they include single fathers, babysitters, grandparents, day-care providers, professional educators. (TMC's first member, Marlies recalls fondly, was "a single male from Cambridge with no children. He just thought it was a great idea!")

"The input from people I've met has been tremendous," Ms. Zammuto says. "We see so many viewpoints — it's not just one type of person."

The heart of the Mother Connection is a newsletter published ten times a year by the steering committee. When the organization began, with "no money and no space" where members could meet regularly, the newsletter became a way for the steering committee to "provide information and services" to members, Marlies says, and keep everyone in touch.

Each issue of the newsletter includes ten regular features, all focused on one theme: September's theme is the kindergarten year. "Reader's Forum", a feature article usually contributed by a parent, leads off every issue; the features are "very lively" accounts of parents' experiences written "straight from the heart," Ms. Zammuto says. In the "Tattletales" section, TMC reviews books, records and magazines that deal with the month's theme. And "Snips and Snails" describes resources available in the area for parents and children (September's issue features gymnastics clubs, for example.)

The rest of the attractive 20-page newsletter is devoted to the Mother Connection's upcoming events and activities, which are many and varied: a baby-sitting cooperative, discussion groups on "working issues" for parents who work outside the home, rap sessions on parenting issues ("the growing family") or fun topics (like a review of cheeses offered by the Butler's Pantry), and field trips and other activities for children (yesterday, pre-schoolers took a bus ride to West Elementary School and toured kindergarten classrooms; next week, they'll journey to Mack's Apple Orchards in Londonderry, N.H. to pick apples).

And the newsletter highlights one of TMC's most successful features, workshops offered by anyone with an interest or talent to share — not necessarily a member of the organization. The Mother Connection handles all the organizing chores for the workshop, collecting only 50 cents per participant; the rest of the attendance fees (usually $3 to $5) are paid to the workshop presenter.

The workshops offer information and entertainment to TMC members, and also give presenters a chance to try out their skills, Marlies points out. "We've been extremely pleased with the workshops," she says. "They've been absolutely top quality and we've had a tremendous variety of topics." Parenting skills, children's activities, assertiveness training, career development, wardrobe planning, and nutrition have been among the workshop topics offered to date.

The Mother Connection also sponsors community events: At 8 o'clock tonight at Memorial Hall Library, Kathryn Goldner and Carole Vogel, the authors of a children's book called The Dangers of Strangers, will give a free lecture on teaching children to protect themselves from strangers.

All of TMC's services are "very easy to use," Ms. Zammuto says — members just have to phone in reservations. And activities are always flexible: If too many people sign up for a workshop, for instance, TMC simply schedules a second session.

Members are free to use the Mother Connection "whichever way they want," she adds. "They can come to everything or just use the newsletter. We're not pushing it — we're just letting it grow. Our feeling is that even if only two people come to an event, it's a success, because at least it put those two people in touch with each other. And the next time they come to something, they'll know someone."

October's Mother Connection theme will be reading, and November's, step-parenting. Coming up in the next few months:

Marlies Zammuto, director of The Mother Connection, plays with four-month-old Luke Larson, son of Tom and Andi Larsen of Lansbury Lane, during a session break.

fathering, building traditions, adoption, foster care, multiple and cluster births, friendship, and testing and screening. The steering committee's ideas come from parents' needs, Marlies says, "what's going on in participants' lives, their problems."

"There are definitely universal themes for parents," she notes. "It is not something that is ever mastered — there's something new all the time!" she says, laughing. "Just when you might say, 'Okay, now I've got it,' your child grows into a different stage, or you have a second child with a completely different personality. Parenting changes daily. Sometimes you feel good about it, and other times you wonder, what am I doing wrong?"

Through the Mother Connection, parents can share their experiences, see someone else's children — and get "a much healthier perspective" on parenthood, Marlies believes. "You develop more realistic expectations, and everyone's self-esteem improves. It's terribly important that people know that their feelings are accepted."

"Parents tell us, 'I've got people in grocery stores telling me what to do' — people do feel free to come up to you and tell you your child should be wearing a hat. And reading books can be even more confusing, because each one is written with a bias."

"Parents are their own best experts when it comes to their own children," she says.

"Parenting shouldn't be a competitive situation — it should be a shared experience."

And it helps if parents remember that child-rearing "can also be a lot of fun," Ms.

GOP Picnic

State and congressional candidates took advantage of Saturday's good weather to visit Andover and the picnic being conducted by the Republican Town Committee. In top left photo, Republican U.S. Senate Candidate Raymond Shamie discusses issues with Lou Patracone, who hosted the party, Bob Wescott and Louise Hart, both from Andover and both planning to seek the GOP nomination for congress from the Fifth District. Top right: Congressional Candidate Wescott, center, an Andover businessman, gets some advice from Tony Filippello, left, and Jack Demoulas. Lower photo: Former GOP Congressman Paul W. Cronin, center, with daughter, Kimberly, left, who sought the state representative seat last year, chat with Charles Hill.

Housing Referral

The Merrimack Valley Planning Commission (MVPC) was recently awarded a grant from Elder Services of the Merrimack Valley to run a housing referral service for the elderly. The main thrust of this service will be to assist the elderly in locating suitable, affordable rental housing in the private sector. This will be accomplished by maintaining a comprehensive list of available rental housing compiled from ads in three regional newspapers, realtor and landlord listings and direct canvassing. Elderly persons in need of an apartment could contact the MVPC for the information compiled. The MVPC will continuously follow-up with new listings gathered. In a similar service performed by the MVPC from June 1982 through May 1983, 46 percent of the participants in the program found permanent living quarters as a direct result of information received from the MVPC.

Education Workshops Scheduled

Registration for "Parents and Educators as Partners," a series of four workshops on special education and the parent's role in it, can be made by contacting 766 Andover Parent Advisory members Pat Pakos, 2 Heritage Lane, or Alice Flynn, 3 Tamys Lane. The first two workshops will be held Thursdays, Oct. 13 and 20, at 7 p.m. in the meeting room at Christ Church, 25 Central St.

These two workshops will be conducted by the Federation for Children with Special Needs, a coalition of parents' groups representing children with a variety of disabilities. The federal and state laws and methods to analyze an individual child's strengths and weaknesses will be the topic for the first workshop. The second workshop will deal with psychological and educational testing and the IEP (individual educational plan) and the parent's role in it.

Additional workshops will be held in March when educational plans for the next academic year are being made. Each workshop will conclude with a half-hour question-and-answer period. The workshops are being sponsored by the 766 Andover Parent Advisory Council.

Course materials will be available to registered participants.

Although the first trains were not built till the 1800's, tracks were laid in the 1500's. They helped horses draw heavier loads than they could on ordinary roads.

AFS Celebrates 20 Years Service

Greeting Students

The American Field Service Club of Andover, an international scholarship program, is beginning its 20th year of offering young people, both here and abroad, the opportunity to experience a culture other than their own. The first AFS group came to Andover in the school year 1963/64 through the efforts of a group of townspeople headed by the Robert Klies, who wanted to further the cause of world peace and understanding. Since then Andover has hosted a large number of foreign students from countries all over the world, while at the same time sent Andover students to share cultures around the globe.

This year Andover is hosting Maria Lobos of San Felipe, Chile, and Henning Roettger of Hamburg, Germany. Maria is staying with the Andrew Girdwood family, Tucker Road, while Henning is living with Jan and Michael Brink, Olympia Way. P.A. is also hosting a Turkish girl, Berkiye Ozer, from the island of Cypress.

The AFS program is supported by the gifts of Andover residents and through several fund-raising events. The Andover chapter is run by a board of townspeople, headed this year by Sue Wahr, president; Jane Fuller, vice president; Ruth Berthold and Sandy Pomeroy, secretaries; and Tom Stark, treasurer. Assisting the board at the high school are Molly Ryden, foreign student advisor, and Bill Kolbe, H.S. club advisor. Don Barry is the P.A. advisor.

Because the coming year is a special anniversary, the AFS board is planning a number of events. Some of the highlights of the year will be the fall United Nations Night at the library, the winter international banquet and the spring crafts show. One of the major efforts for this event will be an anniversary booklet and newsletter highlighting 20 years of AFS history in Andover. If any resident would like a copy of these issues or has AFS information that might be included, call any of the club officers.

At the present time Andover has three high school students abroad. Betsy White has been in New Zealand since last winter. Christine Dwyer is spending a year in Peru and Cathy Batson just left for a year in Turkey. Returning recently were Kate Seeley from a year in Sweden and Karen Kulig from a summer in West Germany. The AFS Americans Abroad Committee suggests that any student interested in more information concerning this program should attend the meeting at the high school on Thursday, Oct. 13, at 7:30 p.m. Parents are particularly encouraged to attend to learn more about AFS and the Americans Abroad program.

German Student

Bill Kehrig of the Nixdorf Co., left, North Reading, explains a product to Gero Feldmann, of Hamburg, West Germany, Mark Carroll and Van Carroll. Feldmann is residing with the Carrolls on Sagamore Drive and attending Andover High School under the American Institute for Foreign Studies program.

Historical Society To Present 'Ancestral Images'

Who, in the history of Andover, were Abraham Marland, Nathan Frye and Peter Byers Smith? And how did Hobart Cark, Timothy Flagg and Amos Blanchard contribute to our town's development? What did these and many other outstanding local citizens of the town of Andover look like?

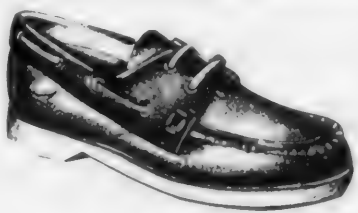

You can find out at the Andover Historical Society Sunday, Oct. 2, at 2 p.m. and 3 p.m. when a slide show entitled "Ancestral Images: A Portrait Archive" will be offered at a nominal charge.

Since its founding in 1911, the Andover Historical Society has been entrusted with the care and protection of the portrait images of many of our illustrious citizens. In recent years, under the direction of Geneva H. Killorin, the society has used its own resources to arrest evidences of deterioration caused by the ravages of time. Professional restoration procedures, using acceptable museum standards, were called for. These irreplaceable works can now be viewed in a state of healthy preservation, clean and brilliant in color.

The society has a three-fold purpose in offering this slide show: 1. to show at one sitting the faces of an impressive number of early Andover citizens who helped to shape the history of the town; 2. to note briefly the skills of the trained artist as shown in some subjects and to point out the difference between these and the work of the so-called itinerant or provincial artist and, finally, 3. the society will show some steps which were required in the conservation process.

Fair

Andover Chapter, Order of Eastern Star will conduct an Autumn Leaves Fair, Saturday, Oct. 1, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Masonic Temple, High Street, Andover. A ham and bean supper will be served from 5 to 6:30 p.m. The fair will include kitchen delights, attic gems, creative crafts, the greenery and more. Diane Norwood is in charge.

On Exhibit

The Andover Gallery is starting the fall show season with a striking exhibit of watercolor-collages by Virginia Brennan entitled "Theatre Pieces." Each "theatre piece" is comprised of a stage format and drama, sometimes humorous and joyful, but are more often quiet and serious. Brennan uses a layering process which employs stamps, Japanese paper, old postcards, reproductions and watercolor. These intimate works are rich in color and texture and are passionate in their personal vision.

Rehearsals For "Chicago" Underway

Rehearsals have begun for Andover Community Theatre's 1983-83 adult season-opener "Chicago" at Doherty Junior High School.

"Chicago," a musical vaudeville, takes place in the roaring '20s. Roxie Hart, married chorine, murders a faithless lover. She and a sister murderer, Velma Kelly, are both headline hunters seeking to capitalize on pre-trial publicity for the sake of acquittal and stage careers. The story is told through a succession of vaudeville acts: Roxie's pre-trial prison career, the trial itself in which she is defended by Billy Flynn, the slickest lawyer in town, and her acquittal and return to obscurity.

The book is by Fred Ebb and Bob Fosse with music by John Kander. It played Broadway to rave reviews such as "The audience adored it. . . One of the best musicals of the season, brassy and sassy," - "The New York Times," "Brilliantly staged, bitingly funny scenes" - "Newsweek," "As dazzling a demonstration of the craft of musical theatre as you're ever going to see." A tremendous accomplishment," - "New York Post."

James J. Girgenti is the director and choreographer. He was the director and choreographer for ACT's production of "Pippin" and the choreographer for ACT's "West Side Story." Micheal Boutin is musical director.

Spring Arts, Crafts Show At Academy

If spring is a time of awakening and blossoming, a time of bringing out brave, new colors after a cold drab winter, it will be well celebrated in Andover next year.

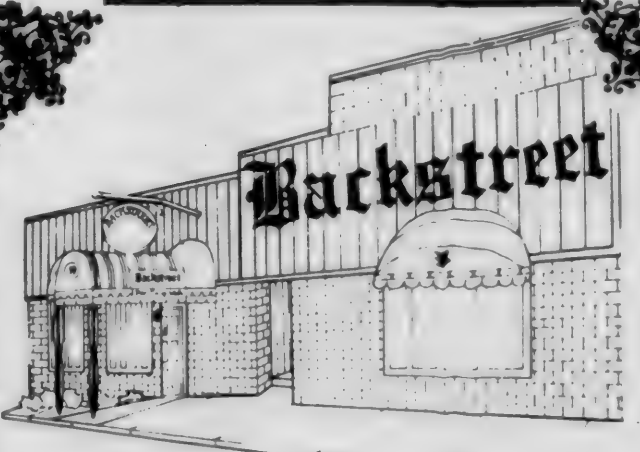

A large-scale arts and crafts show planned for Sunday, April 8, 1984, will bring the work of scores of artisans from all over the northeast to the Phillips Academy campus. The Hand Springs Artisans' Exhibition and Sale will present the craftspeople and their crafts on the floor of the academy's athletic cage. The work of Phillips Academy artisans, both student and faculty, will be exhibited and sold on the upper track.

Organized under the auspices of the Ladies' Benevolent Society, an organization of Phillips Academy women, the Hand Springs show will benefit four charitable groups: Bread and Roses, Greater Lawrence Hospice Association, Andover Community Child Care Center scholarship fund and a Phillips Academy family activities fund.

To enhance the atmosphere of a spring festival, the show will feature music and entertainment by academy groups. A cafe will be set up in a nearby reception building.

The Hand Springs Artisans' Exhibition and Sale is accepting applications from craftspeople. Artisans must exhibit their own work, which must be handcrafted. No kits or flea market items may be shown and no dealers may exhibit. A jury will screen the applications on the basis of photographs or slides submitted by the craftspeople.

Applications may be obtained by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Judy Hamilton, Hand Springs Show Committee, Phillips Academy, Andover, MA 01810.

Open House

The Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, is offering an evening filled with music and activities on Wednesday, Oct. 5 from 6:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. free to all area full-time college and university students. (Upon presentation of a valid student i.d., of course.)

The open house is designed to introduce full-time students to the museum, its collections and the many diverse activities the museum plans throughout the academic year.

Says Charles V. Thomas, director of membership and public services and organizer of the open house, "Once students are acquainted with the museum, they find it a fun place to spend an afternoon or evening. We want students to come on October 5, get to know the museum and enjoy the evening's events. When we held a student open house last year almost 2,000 students attended and had a great time." Complete schedules of the museum's offering will be available.

Students will have the chance to view the outstanding new special exhibition, "A New World: Masterpieces of American Painting, 1760-1910" which includes such masterworks as Whistler's "Mother," John Singleton Copley's "Paul Revere," and Eakins' "The Gross Clinic."

"An ounce of work is worth many pounds of words." — St. Frances De Sales.

To Honor Voters

Secretary of State Michael Joseph Connolly announced the kick-off of a voter award program entitled "Voter Hall of Fame" which will consist of Massachusetts citizens with a continuous voting record for 50 years or more. Upon verification of eligibility of the nominees, Secretary Connolly will honor those selected by publicly inducting the winners into the "Voter Hall of Fame."

"I am extremely pleased to sponsor an award program such as the 'Voter Hall of Fame.' It is a fact of political life that our elderly citizens are the most consistent voters. It is my hope that the evident strength of their belief in the democratic process will serve as role models, not only for all registered voters, but for those eligible voters that have not yet registered," he said.

The "Voter Hall of Fame" awards will continue through January 20, 1984, culminating with an awards ceremony and proclamation in early February in order to encourage voter registration.

(Feb. 14, 1984 deadline) for the 1984 Presidential Primary on March 13, 1984.

Corbato is planning a return performance at Abraham Goodman House in New York City in November. She will travel to the western U.S. for several tours and will visit England in the spring of 1984.

For her Andover concert, Corbato will perform works of several Latin American composers, including a Boston premiere of "Sonata Breve" by Oscar Lorenzo Fernanez, and selections by Villa-Lobos and Ginastera. Also programmed are "Suite in D minor" by Bostonian, Arthur Foote and "Novellettes" of Schumann.

The public is invited. There is no charge for admission.

This unique troop is composed of disadvantaged and troubled boys from throughout the United States who are citizens of Father Flanagan's Boys' Home, the original Boys' Town, near Omaha, Neb. This renowned youth care institution was founded in 1917 by Father Edward J. Flanagan and has provided a home for more than 15,000 boys in the past 66 years.

The 17th Annual Jimmy Fund Airlift will be held Saturday, Oct. 22, at Eastern Airlines' Logan Airport Terminal.

Beginning at 8 a.m. Eastern will operate hourly flights over the New Hampshire coast and White Mountains using its A300 aircraft, the newest widebody jet in the Eastern fleet. Kenneth and Luella (Woodland) Thompson, 99 Gould Road, Andover, were honored on their 50th wedding anniversary with a party Sunday at the home of their son, David Thompson, 97 Gould Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were married in Revere by the late Rev. Arthur W. Swift, pastor of First Baptist Church.

Kenneth and his late father, Thomas, started a poultry farm when they bought the old Gould Farm consisting of 160 acres, and renamed it Fairweather Farm.

Mr. Thompson is a 1925 graduate of Stockbridge School of Agriculture. The school was part of the former Mass. Agricultural College, now the University of Massachusetts, Amherst.

Gould Road, at that time, was a dirt road with no water piped in. Water for the farm was obtained from a spring which never went dry. The poultry farm was in business for 42 years and is now part of Farrwood Development.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson have two children. Their daughter, Phyllis, is married to Dr. W. J. Vesey, head of the religion department of Mt. Union College, Alliance, Ohio. Their son, David, is a resident of Andover.

The Vesey family is currently on a sabbatical trip to the Far East, including Japan, Korea and Sri Lanka, where he is studying oriental religions.

Among the congratulations received by the couple at the Sunday event were a telephone call from Japan, a telegram from Norway and a greeting card from President and Mrs. Ronald Reagan.

Guests were present from Sagamore, Cape Cod, New Hampshire and St. John, New Brunswick.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schwing

Observe 25th

In the eighteenth century, it was considered bad manners to leave a nightcap where it could be seen.

John and Patricia (Burke) Schwing, 6 Bannister Road, Andover, were honored Sunday on their 25th wedding anniversary by their two sons, Michael, 25, Terry, 24, and daughter, Moira, 17.

The couple were married Oct. 4, 1958 in New Jersey. Mr. Schwing is a sales manager for Gould. Over 50 friends and relatives greeted the couple on Sunday at their home.

The November Club is a women's organization, founded in Andover in 1889, devoted to the extension and promotion of cultural and social interests in the community. Among its activities is the annual awarding of an art scholarship to an Andover High School senior.

The Rev. Frank P. Nash, O.S.A., of Andover officiated at the eleven o'clock ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore her mother's wedding gown of imported French lace, fashioned with a bodice of silk satin. The bell-shaped skirt ended in a chapel-length train. She wore illusion veiling falling from a Juliette cap, and carried a semi-cascade of white roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Paula Sue Donovan of Andover, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Christine Donovan and Jane Beth Donovan of Andover, the bride's sisters; Sarah Francis of Andover; and Eileen Lambert of Huntington, N.Y., the groom's sister. Andona Discussion

Andona Starts Its 36th Season

The Andona Society opened its 1983-84 fundraising season with its annual fall dinner meeting at the Sheraton Rolling Green on Monday, Sept. 26.

The first of five business meetings over the next nine months kicked off Andona's many projects undertaken during the year which enable the Andona Society to aid the youth of Andover in the areas of recreation, social development and education.

By the support of the community, Andona disbursed $5,000 in scholarships to Andover High School and Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical students. Other major areas of disbursement include 766 Parent Advisory Council, Museum of Science pass to Memorial Hall Library, Christ Church Nursery School for Handicapped, camperships to send approximately 40 children to summer camp, ABC, Hospice, B.J. Conference), Massachusetts Society for Prevention of Blindness, Ballardvale Preschool, Andover/No. Andover Y.M.C.K., Andover Soccer Association and Andover Little League.

In addition to fundraising events (its ball which will be held at the Sheraton Rolling Green November 4, Dessert Card Party in March, Clown Town on May 19 and Sidewalk Bazaar), Andona members annually train, in conjunction with the recreation department, more than 80 junior high students in a six-week babysitting course, screen more than 275 children in their Amblyopia program and supply balloons, candy and themselves as clowns for the Santa parade.

Officers for the coming year are: Mrs. Judy Smith, president; Mrs. Vicky Bernard, vice president; Mrs. Linda Schrader, secretary; Mrs. Marilyn Hoyt, treasurer. Board members are: Mrs. Jean Prugh, ways and means; Mrs. Leslie Nowell, meetings; Mrs. Jan Shepard, civic; Mrs. Nancy Kokanis, membership; Mrs. Sue Redgate, points; Mrs. Jean Pierro, properties; Mrs. Retta Horton, nominating; and Mrs. Joanne Vietor, public relations and records.

Noted Theologian Speaker

"Living A Full-Filled Life" is the theme chosen by Dr. Gwyn Walters for the Family Spiritual Enrichment series he will lead at the Andover Baptist Church this weekend.

While his Friday and Saturday presentations will be for couples in the church and the members of the Church Diocese, the three special Sunday services led by Dr. Walters on October 2 will be of interest to the entire greater Lawrence church community.

At an 8 a.m. Prayer Breakfast his theme will be "God's Instrument." His sermon title for the 10:50 morning worship will be "Where Christ is Central" and at the 6:30 evening service his address will be "A Family Filled With Joy."

All are welcome to the Sunday services. Those wishing to attend the Prayer Breakfast should make reservations by calling the church office by Friday noon.

Born in Llanelli, Wales, Dr. Walters is an ordained minister of the United Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A. and is professor of Ministry at Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary, South Hamilton. He earned the Bachelor of Arts in Hebrew and Philosophy and the Bachelor of Arts Honours in Philosophy at the University College of Wales in Cardiff, was awarded the Bachelor of Divinity with distinction in Theology and Ethics at the Presbyterian United Theological College Aberystwyth, University of Wales, and received the Doctor of Philosophy in Theology from New College, University of Edinburgh.

Having pastored churches in Scotland, Wales, and the United States, Dr. Walters also served as director and lecturer at London Bible College, Cardiff Extension, and taught Christian Ethics and Preaching at Temple University and Christian Ethics at Princeton Theological Seminary.

During a half-year Sabbatical, Dr. Walters and his family undertook a world tour during which he lectured at seminaries and colleges and preached in churches in the Far East and Europe.

Dr. Walters has composed several hymns and conducted music festivals, and special music will be very much a part of the programs he will lead during the Andover Baptist Family Spiritual Enrichment series.

Dr. Walters resides in South Hamilton with his wife, Mair, and their two children, Gwenfair and Meirwyn.

Congregations To Celebrate Communion

The congregations of Christ Episcopal Church and Faith Lutheran Church will join together in a celebration of Holy Communion on Thursday, Sept. 29, the Feast Day of St. Michael and All Angels, at Faith Lutheran Church, South Main Street, beginning at 7:30.

Joint communion between Episcopalians and Lutherans was officially sanctioned by the churches meeting in convention in June 1982. The proposal approved at those conventions called the national churches to a position of "provisional inter-communion." The hope of the churches is for full inter-communion as study and dialogue of the traditions continue.

Future celebrations of the Sacrament are planned between the local congregations for St. Luke's Day, Oct. 18, at Christ Church, and St. Andrew's Day, Nov. 30, at Faith Church.

Andover Bank To Add Third Floor To New Main Street Building

Andover Savings Bank, which only recently completed construction of its Main Street office and business building, will add a third floor to the structure.

Robert M. Henderson, bank president, reported this week that plans for the third floor are now in the final stages and construction is expected to get underway this fall.

The new section will house the bank's computer operations and other offices, the bank president said.

Completion is anticipated in about a year.

When the original addition was placed a few years ago, it was planned to expand to a third floor some day, Henderson pointed out, thus the foundation and other allied construction was done in order to accommodate this expansion.

The building now houses bank facilities on the ground floor facing Central Street and three business on the Main Street level.

The construction will be in keeping with the current building, in that it will be brick and will also have windows facing both Main and Central streets.

Also, planned for the near future is the demolition of the wood frame building which has been vacant for several months and abuts the bank property. Owned by the bank, it is planned to take the wooden building down and replace it with a structure in conformance with the remaining bank building and be devoted to retail space for the community, Henderson said.

Planners Get Progress Report On Lowell Junction Office Park

The Planning Board Tuesday night heard a progress report on plans for Corporate Place 93, a 59-acre office park proposed for the Lowell Junction area. And an engineer for the developer said he would return before the board in two weeks to discuss a traffic impact study with the planners and townspeople.

Engineer James Fuda of Vanesse/Hangen Associates of Boston, representing Burlington developer Richard Kelly of R.J. Kelly Company, presented the board with copies of a traffic impact study. Fuda said he would meet with the board on Oct. 11 to make a formal presentation and answer questions on that report.

Thayer Warshaw of Clark Road, representing the Ballardvale Village Improvement Society (B.V.I.S.), said the main concern of 'Vale residents is the increased traffic that could be created by the proposal. Warshaw said B.V.I.S. members will attend the Oct. 11 meeting to discuss Kelly's traffic report.

Kelly hopes to build 400,000 to 500,000 square feet of office space on the site, located off Route 93 near the Gillette plant; part of the office park would be located in Wilmington and Tewksbury.

The engineer said Kelly overcame "a major hurdle" to developing the site this past spring when he reached an agreement with the Conservation Commission concerning the first building to be erected in the office park. The commission has written an order of conditions to protect wetlands on the property.

However, the developer is still awaiting final resolution of the question of a sewer connection for the site. Fuda added. Currently there are no sewer lines running to the property, which falls outside Andover's master plan for sewerage the town.

The selectmen have informally agreed to include the site in the master plan, if Kelly can reduce the town's problem with inflow and infiltration into its existing sewer system.

The selectmen want Kelly to reduce inflow and infiltration by twice as much as his office park would add to the sewer system, the engineer explained. He said the developer will present a draft proposal to Public Works Director Robert McQuade on reducing inflow and infiltration.

If McQuade approves that plan, the developer will then need from the selectmen a formal vote to include Kelly's site in the master plan, as well as permits for individual sewer connections for buildings in the development.

The developer's alternative is to build a septic system to serve the site — and neither Kelly nor town officials prefer that alternative, Fuda said.

Finally, he said the developer is continuing negotiations with the Boston and Maine Railroad to build a roadway into the development from Burtt Road; that road would cross a B & M freight railroad track. Kelly currently holds only a 16-foot right-of-way across the tracks.

Fuda said the Burtt Road entrance would be used only for emergency access into the site; the primary access would be off Ballardvale Street in Wilmington, he said.

The planners noted that they cannot approve Kelly's subdivision plan until the selectmen, acting as sewer commissioners, have approved the sewer connection.

They also indicated that they would like to see the approximate square footage of office space that will be located in Andover, and the maximum number of parking spaces that will be included in the office park.

Developer To Complete Work On Indian Ridge Streets

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The developer of the Indian Ridge subdivision has agreed in writing to complete work on six streets within the development, work that will make the streets suitable for acceptance as public roadways.

And the developer, Vazza Associates of Braintree, has reached a separate agreement with Rollins Cablevision as well, so that the cable company may lay underground cable to provide cable TV for residents of the streets.

Members of the Planning Board Tuesday night voted four to zero (with Sioux Circle resident Margaret Bradshaw abstaining) to have Chairman Jerry Greer sign that agreement. The agreement will also be signed by Vazza and Public Works director Robert McQuade.

Community Development and Planning Director Jonathan Gilmore said McQuade will have "final sign-off" of the agreement. Work on the streets must be completed to his satisfaction. Once that work is done, the streets will be eligible for town meeting acceptance as public ways.

Gilmore said he hoped work on the streets would be completed within the next three weeks. (Most of the work is relatively minor, although some drainage problems exist on one street.) Accompanying legal work is to be completed by Nov. 18, he added.

Tuesday night Greer closed a public hearing on Indian Ridge that began two weeks ago. At that time, the planners were ready to discuss calling in Vazza's performance bonds to complete the work on Sioux Circle, Cheyenne Circle, Shawnee Circle, Wabanki Way, Apache Avenue and Penacook Place. Those streets were completed more than three years ago.

However, Gilmore said calling in the bonds might prove unnecessary, because he was on the verge of reaching an agreement with Vazza that would have the developer complete the work. The director said previous efforts to discuss the unfinished work with the developer had proved unsuccessful.

Many residents of the streets recently became alarmed when it appeared the developer would not allow Rollins Cablevision to lay cable under the private streets. Gilmore said this week that Rollins has agreed to complete some of the required street improvements before installing its underground cable.

Zammuto adds. "We hear about families in crisis all the time. There's a lot of pressure on parents, and new parents can get very nervous. But parenting can also be really just a joy. It's sometimes not easy to relax about it and gain more confidence — but the time goes by so fast."

Nancy Skaliotis of Andover has belonged to the Mother Connection from the beginning. When her son, Joel, now 4½, was born, she found it "very lonesome at first," Nancy says. "When you're home, it's very hard to reach out to other people. The Mother Connection really did fill a need for me."

TMC has been "a nice source" of new friends for Joel, who has enjoyed field trips and special seasonal events. "They have some really nice things planned for children," Ms. Skaliotis says. And in addition to attending rap sessions and workshops, Nancy has offered workshops in her professional field, music education. "It's helped me keep my expertise up, and it's given me a place to work part-time. It's a wonderful support system."

Susan Wilner was new to Andover when she joined TMC in June of last year. "It's very difficult moving into a new community with pre-schoolers," she says. (Her children, Emily and Allison, are now three and ten months old). "Neighborhoods are very different now — there aren't children around like there were when I was growing up. Young families are really forced to look elsewhere to find other young playmates."

The Mother Connection has "provided that kind of neighborhood atmosphere" for her children, Ms. Wilner says. "I've gone to meetings and coffees for new mothers to meet other mothers. I've done a lot of things with Emily. I've attended workshops. It's helped make the transition a lot easier for us. The activities are all very high quality, and when you consider that it's totally a volunteer effort, I think it's really terrific."

Alexa Jarret was also a newcomer in Andover when she joined the Mother Connection last year. Her daughter, Megan, was two years old at the time (Megan is now 3½, and brother Brendan is 14 months old), and Alexa found there were "not many organized activities for a two-year-old. I was at a loss." After Brendan was born, Alexa found TMC a way "to get in touch with a lot of other mothers."

"I've met a lot of people — now when we go someplace, we almost always see someone we've met at the Mother Connection." Ms. Jarret says. "It's been good for my daughter — it's opened up a lot of places to us that we didn't know about, a lot of re-

An Andover Remembrance

SEPTEMBER 29, 1983

*Dedication Of The
J. Everett Collins
Performing Arts Center*

Sept. 25, 1983

J. Everett Collins, for whom the performing arts center is named, directs a choral group during dedication ceremonies Sunday afternoon. At right, the Boston Pops following their traditional 'Stars And Stripes Forever' conclusion.

A Day To Remember

By Robert E. Finneran
Editor

Over a decade ago, Andover chopped an auditorium from its proposed new high school in an effort to save money, a decision which was deplored by many at the time.

Sunday, in retrospect, the town may have found the regrets of years ago a proper decision.

For, in the dedication of the J. Everett Collins Center For The Performing Arts, Andover may have placed itself in contention for the title of cultural center of the Merrimack Valley.

The building committee, headed by Kenneth Gropper, attended the Sunday ceremonies which began with a family picnic, followed by dedication exercises. As they surveyed their accomplishment, there was evidence of a certain sense of modest pride about producing a structure which will be utilized for educational as well as cultural pursuits.

The Andover blue tone of the interior was accented by the acoustical perfection during the afternoon dedication and the Boston Pops concert at night.

Focus of the day's exercises was J. Everett Collins, for whom the building was named. The 89-year-old community leader, whose life has been devoted to giving of himself was obviously pleased with the honors bestowed upon him.

There was an occasional tear of joy to fog the perpetual twinkle in his eye as various speakers praised his efforts and his contributions to Andover for these past nine decades. Too, there was the memories recalled through the multi-media presentation composed by Bob King of the high school faculty. And the consummate joy of handling the baton and directing the various chorus presentations during the ceremonies.

It was an Andover celebration of the arts. During the afternoon program a portrait of Collins was unveiled. The work was done by Andover artist Bette Wasserboehr.

The day had begun with a family picnic during which hundreds roamed the Shawsheen Road campus, listening and watching various performing groups on the outdoor stage.

Then came the formal dedication and ribbon cutting when Collins himself snipped the ribbon and declared, "It's open!"

The day was capped by the concert by the Boston Pops Esplanade orchestra, under the direction of Harry Ellis Dickson. The performance was underwritten through a grant from the Andover Savings Bank, whose president, Robert M. Henderson, opened the evening festivities with a short tribute to Collins and the town for producing such a magnificent facility.

After a traditional 'Stars and Stripes Forever' conclusion to the concert, Dickson brought Collins to center stage where he again expressed his appreciation and proclaimed, "This has put a charge in my day."

At a post-Pops party at the Lanam Club, Glen Gulezian and John Schumann, who put together the concert for the Andover Endowment of the Arts, Inc., received rightful plaudits for the day's events.

Among those in attendance was John S. Sullivan, who was an Andover school committeeman for several years. He noted that among his regrets 15 years ago was the dropping of an auditorium from the high school plans when he was chairman, over his objection.

But, like so many others, he felt that the wait had been worth it in what was officially commended to the town for its use Sunday, since the original proposal was a far cry from what has been realized.

sources. It's really well-organized. The Mother Connection has really made me feel at home in Andover and connected me to the community."

As their families grow, the needs and interests of the Mother Connection's steering committee continue to change. They hope to bring more speakers to Andover, to form more support groups for participants with special interests (step-parents, for instance), to offer more workshops and activities for older children, to get more grandparents involved, to offer more late-afternoon and weekend events for working parents.

"People are now coming to us with their ideas," Marlies says, and that's fine with the steering committee. "There are a lot of things we'd really like to try. It would be lovely to have a space, a place people could come to." (TMC has been relying on space donated by local churches, the Community Services department, day care centers and the Greater Lawrence Educational Collaborative.)

The past months have been demanding ones for the steering committee. In addition to working on the newsletter, each committee member takes charge of another aspect of TMC as well: Bonnie Callanen, rap sessions; Joan Ellis, art work; Cheryl Jonas, children's events; Andi Larsen, newsletter; Betty Mobbs, facilities; Audrey Price, calendar; Linda Shaffer, workshops; Susan Swayze, treasurer; Kathy Teplitz, resources. Ms. Zammuto is project director.

Running the Mother Connection has become almost a full-time job for the steering committee; many of them also hold part-time jobs, and all of them rank mothering their own children as top priority, Marlies says.

"We had no idea how many details would be involved, how many hours it would take, how many phone calls we'd be answering every day. Sometimes it's really hard — but then going and seeing the activities, seeing new faces all the time, is really rewarding."

The committee has learned to put out a newsletter and to cope with all the "hidden expenses" of running a non-profit organization. (A $15 yearly subscription fee barely covers the cost of publishing the newsletter, Ms. Zammuto says.) A $1,500 grant from the American Association of University Women got the Mother Connection off the ground; a fund-raising fashion show Oct. 13 at the Lanam Club will help keep it flying.

Ms. Zammuto is currently struggling through a tangle of "bureaucratic paperwork" necessary to obtain tax-exempt status for the Mother Connection — important because "we don't want to be known as a social club. We want tax-exempt status as an educational, charitable service organization. We are really a community service."

Looking around at other community organizations, Marlies believes that many townspeople have "mobilized to get things done" in Andover. "There are people here who've seen a need, and said, 'Let's try it.' I admire that so much," she says. "It's a way of getting things to happen. And the worst that can happen is that it won't happen."

The Mother Connection was born when Marlies Zammuto and a group of Andover mothers who had taken her ten-week parenting classes wanted more. They were "committed to an idea," she says, "and working together, you get more motivated to do something. Everybody needs a friend — to feel at home, and part of the community."

Editor's note: The Mother Connection, Inc., can be contacted at P.O. Box 59, Ballardvale Station, Andover 01810.

A Great Day

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Sunday was a great day in Andover what with the wonderful tribute to J. Everett Collins. It was a tremendous program starting at 1 o'clock with the outdoor festivities on the high school grounds, then the ribbon cutting and the excellent program in the new auditorium. A fitting tribute to a grand guy who has done so much for the community over the years and now in his old age still doing for the high school youngsters with their various choral groups. The young people love him and they call him "Uncle John." The name has become so popular in the school that the faculty have adopted it too.

The marvelous program in the afternoon was capped off in the evening by the Boston Pops concert.

Unfortunately, there are many townspeople who couldn't get tickets. All because the beautiful auditorium isn't large enough. The big question now is, has the town learned a lesson when it's too late. Like all building committees, the big concern is to do the job within the budget. Every building committee faces the same problem. They don't want to go back to the town for more money. Only once has it happened. In the 1930s when the original junior high school was built, the building committee went back to three special town meetings for additional substantial appropriations. There was little or no opposition and it was in the depth of the great depression. Other school buildings have been finished by cutting out something to live with the budget. Building committees and the various town boards feel that they have to eliminate something and stay within the original budget. They have a dreadful fear of going to the town and being rejected. If something has to be eliminated, why don't they let the town take the responsibility of doing the job wrong, but no, they won't.

So, we have the beautiful auditorium and what are we going to do with it? There is talk of bringing in various programs comparable to the Boston Pops. But, let us remember that the facility is primarily a part of the high school. I offer a suggestion to the high school.

Let each class stage three plays a year, a Shakespeare, a good modern comedy and a musical show. At the year's end, the entire student body could put on a real big musical show. The two junior high schools could do the same thing, using the big auditorium, if necessary. The school department could bear the cost of production. Most of the scenery and costumes could be made up by the students who were not performing. And, the best part of it all, open the doors and let the public in free. In this age when we hear so much criticism of the elementary and secondary education across the country, let the public come in and see for itself all the good in our schools. Furthermore, this would be a tremendous experience for the students to perform before large crowds. It would develop their poise and their personalities and their self confidence to the extent that they would be much better in their academic subjects. It would be well worth the expense. Let them memorize those beautiful passages from Shakespeare which they don't do any more in the classroom. Let them live the part. This way it would be fun and not drudgery. They would enjoy it and the townspeople would attend and enjoy it. To the School Department I would simply say, "Just let's do it" and "Now."

So much for the public schools. We have other schools n town, St. Augustine's and Pike School. Let them use the facility and of course, for free so that the entire town can enjoy the facility. Let us not forget that we also have the finest prep school in the land, P.A. Let them use it too. Years ago, before the George Washington Hall was built on the P.A. campus, the students used to stage their plays in the old Town Hall.

Let's go, Andover.

William A. Doherty

P.S. The dedication program on Sunday was, without doubt, the grandest community social event in the history of the town.

Report To Andover

By State Rep. Sue Tucker

Providing Protection

The notion that victims of crime deserve better treatment from our criminal justice system is sweeping the country. I have been working actively to pass a victims' bill of rights in the Commonwealth to include basic principles such as victim compensation and counseling, transportation and escort services to and from court and protection against harassment.

The Massachusetts Caucus of Women Legislators, of which I am a member, is particularly concerned with victims of rape. Our laws have been slow to reflect the reality of rape as an act of brutality, not of lust.

Statistics indicate that a rape is the fastest growing and least reported violent crime. Last year in Massachusetts 1,500 forcible rapes were reported (one every six hours), yet several times that number were never officially recorded. The victims are people we know—our mothers, sisters, daughters and friends.

State leaders have a responsibility to assist rape victims and encourage them to report their attack and follow through in court.

Governor Michael Dukakis recently signed a bill to protect the privacy of sexual assault victims and encourage them to bring their assailants to justice. This measure protects victims from unnecessary humiliation and embarrassment by prohibiting the introduction of the victim's past sexual history into court trial testimony.

Such protection already exists for a charge of rape. However, the nature of the plea bargaining system often results in many alleged rapists being charged with a crime other than rape, such as indecent assault and battery. The new law assures the protection of sexual assault victims by expanding the rape shield law to include the crimes of indecent assault on an adult or child.

Evidence shows that rape victims need immediate therapeutic intervention to mitigate the devastating effects of rape and to pursue court action. The Women's Caucus was instrumental in finding rape crisis centers and specialized victim assistance training. These services have proven invaluable to many hundreds of women over the past few years.

Debate over the sociological and psychological causes of rape will rage on. Meanwhile, the least we can do for victims is assure them that the law is on their side.

Miss Alice D. Donald left this morning for Japan, where she will spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. M.I. Gordon. She will sail from San Francisco on the 25th, a week from today.

On Saturday afternoon the dedication services of the new Free church will be held beginning at 3.30 o'clock, the final arrangements having been made for an excellent program of addresses and music. The invocation will be offered by Rev. Prof. James H. Ropes of Cambridge, and the scripture reading will be led by Rev. Prof. John P. Taylor. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. William E. Wolcott of Lawrence.

Adam Clark Richardson, 96, who had held the honor of being Andover's oldest resident for the past seven years, passed away Mon-

The State Department of Public Works "cannot consider at the present time" taking over Lowell Street as a state highway, according to a letter received from Commissioners Frank E. Lyman by the James Otis Club Tuesday morning. The Commissioner also states that "there is no expectation of any work on the Lowell road in Andover this year."

The Andover school board met Wednesday evening to discuss the matter of a new school as the result of a suggestion made by the Board of Selectmen in connection with the National Recovery Act a few weeks ago, but no definite action was taken since the committee felt that it was not sufficiently informed on the provisions of the Act.

Several changes have been instituted by the school department, based on overcrowding in the elementary schools during the first week of operation. Three teachers will be transferred and one additional teacher has been hired to make the changes effective. Large classes in some of the schools made the changes necessary, it was explained.

A special trip to the Museum of Fine Arts on October 27 is in the planning stage. The exhibit of special interest will be of American artists and will include a guide for every 20 people. Lunch will be at the museum. Since details are not available at press time, you are invited to call the senior center to learn the menu and costs.

The hot lunch program is in full swing at Doherty Junior High. Lunch is at 12:45 and costs 50 cents, but you have to tell the senior center know by 9:30 of the morning you plan to attend that you will be there. The center opens at 8:30 in the morning so you may call from then on, but before 9:30 a.m.

The health department is again sponsoring a program of free flu shots on October 20 in the Doherty School cafeteria. No appointments are necessary. There will also be a pneumonia shot given at the cost of $5, but advance arrangements must be made for it. To pre-register for the pneumonia shot, call the public health nurse at 475-7858. You are urged to refer any questions on the clinical aspects of the pneumonia shot to your own physician. Transportation to and from Doherty School will be available in the Council on Aging van for 50 cents, but you must make advance arrangements through the center.

If there is sufficient interest, there will be an additional needlearts class on Tuesdays from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Students at all different stages of proficiency will be accepted. Call the center right now if you are interested.

There are vacancies in many of the classes. Have you thought of joining the line dancing group? It is great fun, mild exercise and you don't need a partner.

The Andover Friendly Visitor Program is always looking for new visitors as well as new people to visit. Gwen Smith, the coordinator of the program, is at the senior center from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday for your referral. If you would like to be a friend or have a friend, she's the one who can help. She carefully matches people so that you will be compatible. Why not give her a call and talk about it?

The October 4 session of the mini-clinic will be held at the Haven, the senior center, from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Appointments must be made through the Andover Health Department, 475-7820.

Other features of the exhibit are a time line which compares the time on earth of whales, dinosaurs, tigers, elephants, sharks, man, dogs, etc. Other graphic panels compare the size of a whale's organs with other creatures. The methods by which a whale uses its blubber as insulation are compared with insulation in a house, a duck's down and a scuba diver's wet suit.

Migration patterns of whales to New England as well as information about how they feed, what they eat, how they reproduce, the latest information on research and population declines are shown.

FDA may let drug companies sell prescription drugs like soap

By Jack Anderson and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — Headache remedies and cold tablets are advertised every day on television. Rival commercials insist their product is the strongest medication you can buy without a doctor's prescription. If your ailment isn't cured by an over-the-counter pill, you can always count on your doctor for a better remedy.

That's the American way — but it's going to change. The Food and Drug Administration is thinking of letting the drug companies advertise prescription drugs the way they do over-the-counter products. The pharmaceutical industry is all for the idea, but consumer groups and doctors — and even some officials in the Food and Drug Administration — are horrified.

If the big drug companies can advertise their prescription medications like breakfast food or beer, patients may insist that their doctors prescribe the remedies that have the catchiest commercials. If the doctor doesn't think the product is appropriate, the patient may end up shopping around for the "right" physician.

In addition, a drug company that spends millions of dollars advertising its prescription drugs will have to add the advertising costs onto the price of the prescription. This means that prescription drugs will cost even more than they already do.

All of this has been spelled out in an internal Food and Drug Administration memorandum that we've seen. The document also points out that the government knows the public doesn't think much of the idea that prescription drugs should be advertised.

The Food and Drug Administration ran an extensive survey of the general public this year and found that 60 percent of those questioned thought it was a bad idea. Twenty percent of the respondents were willing to let the drug companies advertise prescription drugs only if the government kept strict control over the ads.

Even with all the evidence that the advertising of prescription drugs would be costly, dangerous and unpopular, the Food and Drug Administration is leaning toward permitting the drug industry to launch its media campaign.

CRUEL WAR: Nicaragua is in turmoil, with several factions attempting to wrest control from the left-wing Sandinista government. How these anti-communist factions treat civilians and prisoners indicates how their leaders might rule the country should they emerge victorious. Here's a rundown:

— The Sandinistas make use of intelligence agents who track down dissidents and drag them out of their homes in the middle of the night. Many are sent directly to prison; others are forced to make public confessions.

— The CIA-backed FDN relies on a civilian spy network which forces citizens to inform on their countrymen. The civilian spies are thus caught in the middle: If they are discovered informing for one side, the other will kill them.

— The Misura group of Miskito Indian rebels attempts to recruit prisoners to its cause. If an enemy soldier declines to switch sides, he is summarily executed.

— Rebel leader Eden Pastora — "Commander Zero" — is the only one who does not torture his prisoners. He thinks the practice is counter-productive, and he turns his prisoners over to the Costa Rican Red Cross.

Meanwhile, a major mutiny has occurred in the Misura Indian group. Nearly half of the forces changed allegiance from one leader to another. The renegades were dissatisfied with the alliance forged by their leader, Steadman Fagoth, with the largest group, the FDN. The mutiny was quelled by Honduran troops, and the leaders were placed under arrest.

In the meantime, the United States has recruited three new allies in the anti-Sandinista battle. Brazilian officers are teaching the rebels guerrilla techniques; Venezuela is providing funds; and Israel is providing arms, training and money. A fourth country, Colombia, rejected the CIA's request for help in toppling the Sandinistas.

THIRD-WORLD RIFT: According to our intelligence sources, there's been a strange split between two of the Third World's most notorious leaders — Libya's Muammar Qaddafi and Cuba's Fidel Castro. They differ over strategy toward El Salvador.

Qaddafi is urging leftist guerrillas in El Salvador to wage a long, drawn-out war of attrition with a military victory as the ultimate goal. Castro, on the other hand, is more pragmatic. He favors negotiations to end the fighting.

Some intelligence analysts say this explains why a shipment of arms sent by Qaddafi to Salvadoran rebels last April went by way of Brazil instead of Cuba. Some experts even believe Castro may have tipped off the Brazilian government about the shipment. Brazilian authorities seized the planes and created a major embarrassment for Qaddafi.

HEADLINES AND FOOTNOTES: There's a scandal in the works over security for the 1984 summer Olympic games. The FBI has insisted on running the show but critics say the bureau is off to a slow start.

— The Arab states of Qatar, Kuwait and the United Arab Emirates fear that Palestinian immigrants will foment terrorism. Kuwait has gone so far as to contract for a computer system that will spot Palestinians who attempt to settle there.

Most Americans first encounter a bidet when traveling in Europe and, particularly, in France. Long considered a necessity for hygiene in France, its name means "little horse". It is said to have been developed to cleanse those parts of the body that come in contact with a saddle. It resembles an ordinary toilet. With the flick of a switch, it sends a stream of clean, warm water to wash the perineal area of the user. Another switch actuates a gentle stream of air drying. The bidet is fast becoming a fixture in American bathrooms as an accompaniment to the standard toilet.

Does your bathroom need a facelift? Whether you are looking for modern accessories or functional WINDSOR KITCHENS can help you. The effort we put into design is proudly shown in the finished work and we invite you to come in anytime. We're here Mon-Thurs 9-5:30, Fri 9-8, Sat 9-4, eves by appointment and we are conveniently located on Rte. 125 in Ward Hill (1/2 mile north of Western Electric) and our phone is 372-3444. Your questions are graciously welcome.

Booters Back On Winning Track

By She Livermore

Andover's varsity soccer team, after its thrashing by Billerica, returned to its winning ways last week posting a decisive 7-0 victory over Haverhill, downing Chelmsford 2-0 in a closely fought contest and beating Wilmington 2-1 in a game that was decided in the last minute.

Andover 7 - Haverhill 0

The Golden Warriors opened the scoring early in the game when Scott Wilkins scored off a pass from Tri-Capt. Jim Denoncourt on a play set up by John Drake.

In the second quarter the warriors increased their lead, making it 4-0. Denoncourt scored two goals, one on a forward pass by Gage Perry and the other from Barry Tucker. Wilkins headed in the ball on a long throw in by Nick Bates.

Midway through the third quarter Peter Surrence made it 5-0 when a cross pass from David Bartle was not cleared by the defense and he blasted the ball into the net.

The final quarter saw Surrence score two more goals. Tucker took a shot on goal which a defender attempted to block and Surrence kicked in the loose ball. Minutes later, Surrence made a hat trick when his shot on goal hit the right post and deflected in; Steve McDowell received the assist.

Andover's offense controlled the game throughout and made countless shots on the Haverhill net. Goalkeeper Brian Sheehy denied the few shots on goal by Haverhill in the first half. Walter Pitts and David Bartle maintained the shutout in the second half.

Tri-Capt. David Keene and John Drake were strong on offense.

Andover 2 - Chelmsford 0

Andover encountered stiff opposition from the Chelmsford defense throughout the contest and the game remained scoreless until the third quarter when the Warriors capitalized on a direct kick. Center fullback Mark Perowski made a perfect pass forward to the area in front of the net and Scott Wilkins beat the opposition to the ball and headed it into the net.

Andover made it 2-0 near the end of the quarter when Tri-Capt. Jim Denoncourt scored, following a corner kick by Nick Bates.

In the final quarter Chelmsford surged and made many attempts to penetrate Andover's defense. One of their attempts resulted in Perowski sustaining a serious injury as he battled a Chelmsford forward for possession of the ball. It is doubtful whether he will be able to resume play for the rest of the season, leaving a big hole in Andover's defensive line.

Goalkeeper Brian Sheehy played an outstanding game, rejecting on at least four occasions definite goals.

Tri-Capt. David Keene, Glenn Livermore and Steve McDowell played strong games at midfield.

Andover 2 - Wilmington 1

After a scoreless first quarter, Andover took the lead midway through the second when Scott Wilkins made a fine cross in front of the goal to Peter Surrette who headed the ball into the net.

The Warriors appeared to let up in the second half, allowing Wilmington to control the play, and early in the final quarter, Wilmington tied the game, following a scramble in front of the net.

With the game tied the Warriors regained their earlier spark and pressed repeatedly. With one minute remaining, Glenn Livermore intercepted the ball and made a moving pass to Surrette who crossed it forward to Paul Hevehan. Hevehan turned, controlled the ball and made a shot on net which the keeper misjudged and the ball rolled into the net.

Goalkeeper Brian Sheehy blocked ten shots on net. Tri-Capt. Hai Dang, Sean Burns and Steve McDowell played well.

When Coach Dave Amundsen was asked to comment on the team's performance last week, he said he was "pleased to see the way the team bounced back after being soundly defeated by an outstanding Billerica team." He continued, "they took advantage of a very weak Haverhill team and did what they should have done in scoring seven goals."

"The team stood up well against a very aggressive and determined Chelmsford 11. Were it not for the set plays, however, the score might have been 0-0 and a few excellent opportunities were missed."

"In Wilmington, the team appeared to be resting on its laurels from the previous two games and the offense was very lackluster, missing many excellent opportunities and allowing Wilmington to stay close where one defensive mistake could have cost the win. It was fortunate that Hevehan was able to shoot as well as he did to save the victory," concluded Coach Amundsen.

Andover was scheduled to play Lowell at home yesterday and this was expected to be a tough encounter. The Warriors will travel to Tewksbury on Saturday, playing at their junior high school at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday and Thursday of next week will find them at home playing Lawrence and undefeated Methuen, respectively. Game time is 3:30 p.m.

Swimmers Sink Lowell

Led by triple winners, Anne Koerckel, Laurene Lazzaretti and Abby Robb, and inspired by the cheers of the standing-room-only crowd, the Andover High girls' varsity swim team sank the team from Lowell High 120-52 at the Greater Lawrence Technical School pool last Friday. The Golden Warrior Wave won 10 of 11 events and went 1-2-3 in five as they took their 16th consecutive win.

Michele Fox, Anne Marie Grogan, Diane Sagaser and Robb won the 200 yard medley relay. Nicole DeMartino, Tracey Thompson, Maegan Hughes and Debbie Rice added third place points in the event.

Koerckel took on one of the strongest swimmers in the Merrimack Valley Conference and captured the hard-fought race for the first of her three wins. Senior co-captain Amy Brown was a strong third.

Senior co-captain Lazzaretti won the 200 yard I.M. to lead the Wave to its first sweep of the day as Sagaser took second with sophomore Stephanie Mitchell third.

Robb took the 50 yard freestyle and led the second AHS sweep as Fox was second and Anne Herrmann third.

With only half an hour of practice time on their home pool board so far this season, divers Brenda Busta, Karen Reddington and Jessica Ruben finished 2-3-4.

Senior Robb completed her hat trick in the 100 yard butterfly as Cathy Smith and Sagaser were second and third. Sagaser and Smith qualified for the Northern Sectionals in this event.

Lisa Boudreau took first place in the 100 yard freestyle, followed by Rice and Herrmann for the fourth Warrior sweep.

Lazzaretti won the 500 yard freestyle by over half a pool length for her second victory of the day. Mitchell battled head-to-head with second Lowell 500 swimmer for third place and pulled ahead in the last five yard of the race to capture third place.

The 100 yard backstroke was the fifth Andover 1-2-3 finish of the meet and Michele Fox lopped two full seconds off her previous best time to win. She was followed by senior Boudreau and fellow frosh Rice in second and third, respectively.

Proving her versatility, Koerckel came back to win the 100 yard breaststroke for her second first-place finish. Grogan was third and Brown fifth.

Boudreau, Smith, Koerckel and Lazzaretti set new school and MVC records in the 400 yard freestyle relays as they went 3:56.66 to better the old standards by two seconds. Hughes, Herrmann, Amy Driscoll and Brown were third.

The team felt that the enthusiastic spirit of the largest crowd of boosters and fans ever to attend an AHS swim meet contributed to their victory. The warm response and strong support was greatly appreciated.

Next Friday the Golden Warrior Wave meets Greater Lawrence at the Voke pool at 3:30 p.m. The public is invited.

The following is a list of activities of the Andover Fire Department from September 20-26:

Defense Salvages Tie For Warriors

Mark Nardone makes a slight gain for Andover before being stopped by Tewksbury

By Rick Harrison

With one of its key offensive weapons forced to watch the game from the sidelines, the Andover High football team relied on a staunch defensive effort and a flashy touchdown pass to salvage a 7-7 tie with Tewksbury in Merrimack Valley Conference action before 1,000 fans last Saturday at Eugene V. Lovely Field.

Senior halfback Bob Stabile, who sparked the opening 17-14 victory over Lawrence with 127 yards rushing and a 62-yard touchdown sprint, has been shelved indefinitely with a shoulder injury suffered in a pre-season scrimmage against North Andover.

The exact extent of the injury wasn't properly diagnosed until last Friday, and Stabile actually played the entire Lawrence game with the bad shoulder. Estimates on when he will be available again range from two to eight weeks.

The Golden Warriors' ground game suffered noticeably in his absence, as AHS managed just 78 yards net. Alternate quarterbacks Chris Scarpa and Ralph Dellatto, often forced to scramble out of the pocket by a swarming Tewksbury defense, were the leading rushers with Scarpa pacing everyone with 58 yards in seven carries.

The aerial attack produced only 81 yards, Dellatto and Scarpa combining to hit six of 12 passes, but one of them was a flashy 21-yard connection between Dellatto and senior wide receiver Mark Grams for the tying touchdown.

The Andover defense, meanwhile, stymied Tewksbury's traditionally intricate and imaginative attack for most of the afternoon.

The Redmen, who entered the game with a carryover win streak of five straight and an impressive string of five consecutive shutouts, were held to 80 yards rushing and 113 yards through the air on 12-for-24 by sophomore signal-caller Rob Aylward.

The tie left both teams with 1-0-1 early-season records, trailing Chelmsford (2-0-0), Dracut (2-0-0) and Lowell (2-0-0) in the MVC standings.

Scoreless Half

Neither team scored in the first two periods, although Tewksbury had a pair of threats while Andover failed to penetrate inside the Redmen 35 yard line.

The rivals, featuring perhaps the two best punters in the MVC with Mark Nardone and Tewksbury's John Hodgson, traded kicks on their first possessions.

The Redmen put Nardone's punt in play at their own 44 yard line, and marched down to the Andover five on a well-executed 13-play drive.

Featured were Aylward passes to Mike Irvine (11 yards), Rich Morneweck (14 yards) and Shawn Monahan (13 yards), along with short runs by Hodgson (top Redmen rusher with 49 yards in 10 carries), John Naughton, Aylward and Monahan.

Late in the drive Tewksbury had an apparent 11-yard TD pass nullified by an illegal motion penalty and the threat died when cornerback Charlie Ziegenbein stopped Hodgson for no gain on a fourth-and-2 play from the five-yard line.

Tewksbury middle guard Mike Dunlay pounced on a Golden Warriors' fumble on the first play of the second period, the Redmen taking over at the Andover 22-yard line.

A costly offensive interference penalty (loss of down) moved the visitors back to the 37 from where Aylward hit Gale with a 12-yard pass.

This bid was again thwarted by Ziegenbein, who batted down an Aylward pass intended for Irvine at the goal line.

The Golden Warriors proceeded to drive to the Tewksbury 35, the big gainer a 29-yard pass-and-run play from Scarpa to Grams. The fleet receiver caught the ball over the middle and sprinted to the right sideline before being hauled down at the THS 44.

Another Andover fumble on a fourth down and short yardage play killed the bid, with Dunlay making his second recovery.

Late in the half a 15-yard pass from Dellatto to Ziegenbein moved the ball back into Redmen territory, but Mike Wilson threw Scarpa for a 12-yard loss on the next play.

Nardone and Hodgson moved center stage in the final minute with Nardone booming a 52-yard punt and Hodgson countering with a 51-yarder.

Trading Touchdowns

The two teams traded third quarter touchdowns for the only points in the game.

Tewksbury Tri-Capt. Tom Ogden, who had an outstanding game on defense with four sacks and a blocked punt, set up the redmen score when he broke through to smother Nardone's attempted kick early in the third period.

The Warriors put themselves in a deep hole with a clipping penalty on the kickoff and Ogden's block gave Tewksbury the ball at the AHS 15.

Hodgson knifed five yards on the first play and a personal foul penalty on the Golden Warriors moved the ball to the five. Monahan took a pitchout to the left side and reached the two from where Naughton blasted off right tackle for the touchdown.

Sophomore Jim Evangelista toed the conversion, making him 4-for-4 this season, and the Redmen had a 7-0 lead at 3:04 of the period.

Andover wasted no time pulling even, taking the subsequent kickoff and driving 73 yards in nine plays.

The AHS touchdown snapped Tewksbury's shutout string at 22 quarters and over 230 minutes of playing time.

Dellatto ran twice in the march for 18 yards and pitched a two-yard pass to Nardone, while Scarpa carried twice for 24 yards and fired an eight-yard aerial to Grams.

The payoff was a 21-yard pass from Dellatto to Grams with Grams making a nice outside fake after the catch to elude two Redmen defenders.

It marked the second time in two games the pair had teamed for a TD pass, the first being a 31-yarder against Lawrence.

Ziegenbein tied the contest 7-7 with his 14th straight conversion kick over the past two seasons (third this fall).

With better than 13 minutes still left to play, Head Coach Dick Collins never gave a second thought to going for two points and the lead.

Threats

The rivals then traded punts before Tewksbury drove from its own 17 to the Andover 38 midway through the final quarter.

Aiding the drive was a pass interference call against the Warriors, while Aylward also completed two passes to Brian McGrath for gains of 14 and five yards.

Tewksbury eventually surrendered on downs at the 38, but three Ogden sacks on Andover's next possession forced the Golden Warriors to punt with just 1:22 remaining.

The Redmen advanced the ball to midfield before Ziegenbein came up with his second interception of the season at the AHS 36 with 57 seconds left to play.

Three plays later Tewksbury returned the favor, picking off a Dellatto pass intended for Peter Comeau and returning the ball to the Andover 43-yard line.

Aylward pitched two short passes to Steve Gale, giving Tewksbury a first down at the Warriors' 30-yard line with four seconds to go.

On the final play of the contest Aylward lofted a long pass for McGrath, but Andover safety Billy Vickers deflected the ball away at the goal line to reserve the tie.

Defense

Among the players turning in solid defensive efforts for the Golden Warriors were Co-Capt. Mike Griffin, Ian Dowe, Mike Gibson, junior John Barry, Grant VanAken and Ziegenbein.

Statistics

Tewksbury led the statistical parade in first downs (9-8), yards rushing (80-78), yards passing (113-81), total yardage from scrimmage (193-159), scrimmage plays (60-49) and time of possession (22:04 to 17:56).

Grams topped the Andover receivers with three catches for 58 yards, while Ziegenbein added two grabs for 21 yards.

Steve Gale caught four passes for 29 yards and Brian McGrath three for 34 yards to pace the Redmen.

Nardone averaged 41.2 yards for four punts and Hodgson 42.8 for four punts.

Andover fumbled four times, losing possession twice, and were penalized 30 yards. Tewksbury did not fumble and were penalized 40 yards.

Injuries

In addition to Stabile, Andover is also minus the services of promising junior guard Tom Rossback (shoulder injury).

Larry Cuddy dressed for the game, his injured hand taped.

and handled the kicking off chores.

Tewksbury played without two key starters, linebacker and Tri-Capt. Tom Nawn and two-way starter Buddy Farley (guard-linebacker) both out with intestinal flu.

Girls' Volleyball Record Even

By Chris Scanlon

In the first match of the season, Andover High girls' volleyball team gave their opponents from Wilmington a tough time, winning 15-14.

The first game started with Stacey Phillips serving to ball to the gap on the Wilmington side. Later, an excellent spike from Lorna Tilgriss made the score 3-0. After this the serve was lost, but Wilmington only acquired one point before losing the serve back to Andover. Kathy Coh got two points, then handed the serve to Carolyn Tiberii. Tiberii, only a sophomore on the varsity team, led her teammates to a smashing victory by scoring the last nine points.

But, the match wasn't over. In the second game of the best of three, Andover was behind 0-2 when Patti Foley took the serve and got three points. Then Wilmington attained the serve and combined with some great plays to make the match even at one game apiece.

Phillips again showed strength in serving at the start of game three. The serve was lost and gained several times with Tina Sutton hitting the ball for two points and Tilgriss also hitting two points. When Wilmington closed the gap to 7-6, Tiberii took over and once again came through with good serving to widen the gap to 9-6.

Now the pressure was on to score as many points as possible when in possession of the ball. The serve was exchanged between the two teams. When Sutton, Tilgriss and Mandi Duggan were through contributing the points, the score was 14-14. Wilmington had the serve, but a superb block by Duggan gained the serve for Andover. The ball was handed to Tilgriss who, in turn, served it for a point. Wilmington returned the serve, but the combination of a bump hit from Tiberii, a set for Coh and an awesome spike from Duggan was unreturnable and Andover won the game and the set.

Tiberii was named the most valuable player for Tuesday's game.

Thursday's game with Billerica began with Andover serving. Phillips scored one point but then the serve was lost. Andover put on a good show of talent, but unfortunately, Billerica made some impressive plays, most of which Andover had trouble returning. The score was Billerica 11; Andover 1 before the locals got the serve back. Tilgriss and Coh together added three points to Andover's one, but it wasn't enough to match Billerica who continued to rob them of four more points and a win.

The second game was not much different from the first. Billerica had many excellent plays and Andover was unable to counter. At the end of the game the score was 15-6. Their record is now one win and one loss.

Coh was named most valuable player of Thursday's game.

Girls' Soccer Underway

Andover High's girls' varsity soccer, captained by Mary Oppel and assistants, Alyssa McCabe and Deanne Gianelly, began the season with a 7-0 win against Lynnfield on September 14. Torrie Fitzpatrick headed the first of her three goals into the net on a pass from Oppel. Kathy Neaves scored the second goal, again assisted by Oppel. Aimee Ross, Joanne Martin and Suzanne Curly each scored unassisted goals. Neaves was the offensive star with Devra Weisman starring defensively and Ross put in a super overall performance.

In the second game, won against Newburyport, Andover booted in 13 goals. Neaves led with six goals, assisted by Lisa Marcella, Martin, Kathy Murphy, Julie Kittleson and Weisman. Curly booted in two goals with passes from Michelle Poisson and Kelly Johnson. Kittleson, Poisson, Marcella, Fitzpatrick and Gianelly scored while Ann Abele put in a good offensive performance.

In the third game on September 19, the Andover girls, with 15 shots on goal, battled the North Andover team, with only five shots on net, for a 1-1 tie. Both goals came in the fourth quarter with Marcella scoring for Andover on a crossing pass from Murphy. Marcella was offensive star for the game and Weisman and Kittleson were defensive stars. The coaches' pick was Curley.

The Andover girls continued their winning ways on September 21 by beating Georgetown 5-0. Goals were scored by Ross from Curley, Neaves from Ross, Poisson unassisted, Betsy Murphy from Kara Oliver and Curley from Nicole Durant. SaraMichelle Sapuppo was the defensive star of the day and Curley was the offensive star.

Andover Junior Football Results

The Andover Junior football League kicked off its 24th season last Sunday at the Doherty Junior High field.

Following the coin-toss by Andover High Golden Warrior head football coach Dick Collins, the Bancroft Dolphins shut out the West Andover Redskins 20-0 in the opening game.

The first half ended in a scoreless tie after rugged play by both "A" squads, but the Dolphins "B" team broke the game open in the third quarter with two touchdowns, runs of 38 and 20 yards by David Tucker and a 37-yard gallop by Curt Solomon. Solomon and Tucker each made good on an extra point rush and together accounted for all their team's points.

The Dolphins "A" team was keyed offensively by the running of first-year player Andy Shea and the defense as anchored by the hard-nosed play of Robbie Finneran. Singled out by their coaches for their tough defensive efforts were "B" squad members, John Teichert, Chad Gome and Adam Galvin.

Playing well in a losing effort for the Redskins were "A" team quarter back Andy Peck, halfback James Spinelli and end Chris McNally. The defense as keyed by the hard-hitting of Stefan Kelly and Paul DeMarco. "B" team standouts were halfback Mike Fay and lineman Dave Edwards. On defense, linebacker Ryan Kelly was all over the field making numerous unassisted tackles.

In the second contest, the Central Colts came away with a well deserved, hard-fought 13-0 shutout of the defending champions, Indian Ridge Vikings.

The Colts opened the scoring in the first half when right halfback Scott Wallace took a screen pass from quarterback Steve Surette and scampered 40 yards for the core. Surette's rush for the extra point was good and the Colts led 7-0. In the third quarter "B" team quarterback Billy Batchelder swept right end from 10 yards out to score. Tough defense by the Vikes' "B" squad denied the Colts the extra point, making the score 13-0.

Standout performances were turned in by the Colts' Ryan Murphy at halfback and Jack Dalton at defensive end for the "A" squad and Batchelder, who completed four of five passes, Jeff Manning and Chuck Hurley played well for the "B" squad.

The Vikings got fine performances from Steve Howes, James Kim, Doug Bruk, Peter Radulski and Matt Perry.

Nex Sunday the Colts will play the Dolphins at 1 p.m., followed by the Redskins vs. Vikings at the Doherty Junior High field.

Soccer Groups Merge

The Andover Soccer Boosters organization discussed possible merger with the girls soccer support group at its meeting on September 21. Members present unanimously agreed that combining boys and girls soccer support groups could only prove beneficial to all concerned and the decision was made to ratify the merger immediately.

The possibility of having one combined boys and girls end-of-season banquet was explored. Due to the length of time involved in presenting trophies and other awards, it was decided to continue with two separate banquets this year. The boys' banquet, which will be held at the New Christian Formation Center, has been tentatively scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 16. The date of the girls' banquet was not available at press time.

The next meeting of the Andover Soccer Boosters organization will be held at Andover High School, Room 118, Wednesday, Oct. 5, at 8 p.m. Fund-raising plans will be formalized and all members, as well as other soccer enthusiasts, are encouraged to attend.

Buckley, Jr., conservative columnist and editor-in-chief of the National Review and host of the PBS program "Firing Line," will discuss "Reflections on Current Contentions" as the first speaker in the 1983 Endicott College Lincoln Forum Public Affairs Lecture Series on Wednesday, Oct. 5, at 8 p.m. in the Endicott Auditorium, 376 Hale St., Rte. 127, Beverly. Essay Contest

The Federal Aviation Administration is conducting a National Aviation Education Essay Contest that could earn a $5,000 college scholarship for a high school student.

School children in grades 4-6, 7-9 and 10-12 can enter by writing an essay on "The Importance of Aviation to our Society."

The contest is being conducted by the FAA's Office of Aviation Education to encourage students to develop an awareness and understanding of the impact that 200 years of flight—from the first manned balloon flight in 183 to today's jets—has had on the world and on how we live, travel and communicate.

Prizes include certificates, airplane models and VIP airport visits. The FAA will designate some winners as air traffic controllers for a day and permit them to join working controllers in traffic control facilities. There will be introductory flying lessons and a $5,000 scholarship.

Judging will be done on the basis of historical accuracy, originality, neatness, spelling and punctuation and adherence to the subject. The essays should be in ink in the handwriting of the student or typed.

Entrant's name, grade, teacher's name, school name and complete mailing address of school must be clearly printed at the top of each entry.

Essays with portions copied directly from a reference book will be disqualified.

Essays must be completed and submitted with postmark by November 15.

In Massachusetts, entries must be mailed to: Mary Jo Cogar, Federal Aviation Administration, Public Affairs Office, 12 New England Executive Park, Burlington, MA 01803.

sac off Beacon Street. The area is zoned Single Residence B, Ferrante said.

Cormier's definitive plan calls for moving three existing fairways on the golf course, Ferrante said, and building homes where those fairways are now located. Fairways seven, eight and nine would be relocated.

Ferrante said some cutting would be done in the area along Route 495, and that earth material would be used as fill in other parts of the site. No material would be removed from the site, he said, but some may be brought onto the site.

The first step would be to cut down trees and bring the fairways to grade, the engineer said, adding that the developer intended to start work immediately and work as much as possible during the winter. Up to five or six acres will be open at any one time, he said.

House lots would not be started until the new fairways are ready for use, at least two years from now.

Chairman Jerry Greer noted that construction noise and dust have been a problem for neighbors of the country club development since construction began more than three years ago.

Ferrante said the area that would be opened this fall would be covered with snow during the winter, and loamed and seeded "as soon as possible" next spring. He added that the section is much smaller than section one off Canterbury Street, and isolated from neighbors by Route 495 and the clubhouse, while existing trees would shield the section's closest abutters on Amherst Road.

Community Development and Planning Director Jonathan Gilmore commented that any dust from the section would probably have more impact on the rest of the country club development itself than on neighbors.

However, John Corey of 81 Lowell St. said the developer "might be miscalculating" the impact of winds in the area, and said Cormier should plan "mitigating measures" to protect neighbors from blowing dust.

And Nicholas Hill of 83 Lowell St. said starting a new section while section one remains unfinished would be "absolutely unconscionable — it's criminal."

Hill said opening up section four would "magnify the existing problem" with section one: construction dust "blows continuously, frozen or not," he said. Country club abutters are "living in a sand dune," and even in winter, he added, "we have brown snow."

Much of section one, where 70 homes are planned, is "all sand," Hill told the planners. "Nothing is loamed and nothing is seeded." Blowing sand has caused health problems and "property damage all up and down the street. This is a travesty," he said of the new proposal. "None of this should begin until section one is closed up. Enough is enough."

Engineer Arthur Fosse of Dana F. Perkins said the developer is now "in the process of" loaming and seeding lots in section one. He added that Cormier "has tried to cooperate one-thousand percent" to prevent problems for abutters.

But Planner Paul Curley told the developer, "It's about time you started mitigating problems that are there. Somebody's got to do something positive." And Planner George Moran agreed, saying the planners needed "some indication of good faith" from the developer.

Gilmore cautioned that the board may have no "legal prerogative" to require more work on section one before approving plans for section four. And Chairman Greer noted that "our hands may be tied — we may have to judge section four only on its merits."

The chairman added that the board would "definitely take a long and hard look at the proposed construction schedule, and how much land is going to be open." Greer said the planners would discuss the proposal during their next meeting, scheduled for Oct. 11.

The board has a Nov. 5 deadline for approving the definitive plan, and a Dec. 26 deadline for approving the special permits to cluster and for earth removal and regrading.

Some 270 house lots are planned for the entire development, which is bounded by Lowell, Beacon and Canterbury streets and Chandler Circle.

Later Tuesday, Ferrante presented preliminary plans for a much simpler subdivision to the board. Osgood Place is proposed for a 13-acre site off Bellevue Road, owned by Mary Tateosian of Osgood Street, and zoned Single Residence C.

The cluster development would include ten house lots on one cul-de-sac, the engineer said, and nearly four acres of open space. The lots would drain into existing wetlands and would be served by septic systems, Ferrante said. There would be no earth removal, he added.

Ferrante said his firm is testing the soil of the former farmland to check for herbicides and pesticides.

The planners have an Oct. 29 deadline for acting on the Osgood Place proposal.

Free Trees

Ten free flowering trees will be given to people who join the National Arbor Day Foundation during September as part of the foundation's effort to promote tree planting throughout America.

The foundation will give two white dogwood, two American redbud, two European mountain ash, two Washington Hawthorn and two flowering crab trees. The six-to-12 inch trees will be shipped postage paid with enclosed planting instructions.

The National Arbor Day Foundation, a non-profit organization, is working to improve the quality of life throughout the country by encouraging tree planting.

To become a member and receive the free trees, a $10 membership contribution should be sent to Flowering Trees, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by September 30, 1983.

Historic Mill Building To Become 'A Showplace'

By Sue Aucella Deacon

An historic mill building at the corner of Stevens and North Main Street will be renovated into "a showplace" with $4.6 million in low-interest industrial revenue bonds, a developer told the selectmen this week.

During a brief public hearing Monday night, the selectmen unanimously approved developer Bert Paley's request for $4.6 million in financing. The developer's request had already been approved by Andover's Industrial Development Finance Authority, and must now be approved by the Massachusetts Industrial Finance Authority (M.I.F.A.).

Paley, of Wood-Ayer Realty Co. of Lawrence and Andover, said the mill building will be renovated and landscaped for one tenant, who was to be announced later this week. The building is located at 15 Stevens St., on the west side of the Shawsheen River.

"We will keep the integrity of the building, and beautify it," the developer promised the selectmen. The former Marland Mills complex is listed in the National Register of Historic Places.

According to Paley, the building includes 132,000 square feet of floor space on the top two floors. The first floor, with 15,000 square feet, will be used as a parking area rather than office space to sidestep potential flooding problems.

Planning Chairman Resigning

Planning Board Chairman Jerry S. Greer has announced that he will resign from the board effective Oct. 14.

Greer, who lives with his family on Osgood Street, is leaving Andover to accept a new career opportunity in Washington, D.C. He has served as chairman since David Gravalles resigned from the board in June 1982.

The senior member of the planning board is vice chairman Andrew Girdwood, who has said in the past that he would not accept the chairmanship. The remaining planners serving on the five-member volunteer board are Margaret Bradshaw, Paul Curley and George Moran.

Antiques Show, Sale

The third annual Outdoor Antiques Festival Show and Sale, sponsored by The Guild of Strawberry Banke, Inc., will be held Saturday, Oct. 1, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Great Island Common in New Castle, N.H., rain or shine. Tickets will be sold at the entrance gate.

All types of antiques will be represented; glass, pewter, porcelain, silver, iron and woodenware, furniture, maps, prints and painting.

The outside of the brick building will look much as it does now, the developer said, although the windows will be replaced with windows that "resemble" the original ones.

ground by the selectmen Monday night, after receiving additional information relative to the installation. Town Manager J. Maynard Austin informed the board that the installation meets all standards established by the National Fire Protection Association and that Fire Chief Henry L. Hiltan had recommended approval.

Phillips Academy has tabled for the time being its proposal of late this past summer, to reroute Main street around the campus from Hidden road to Morton street. In a letter to the selectmen this week, Headmaster Theodore R. Sizer stated that reactions which followed the proposal, while sympathetic to safety problems of the academy campus, "fails to take sufficient account of the later interests of the community, particularly those related to downtown Main street, to the north of the campus."

Selectman Alan F. French was commended by his colleagues Monday night as an agreement was reached on the granting of conservation land to the town by Arkwright-Boston and Hewlett-Packard in West Andover. The agreement, part of the town meeting vote of approval for the location of the new medical electronics plant in West Andover, has been negotiated by French with the industrial firm officials.

Alternate Fair Route

Commissioner Robert T. Tierney of the Massachusetts Department of Public Works announced that the department will again cooperate with the town of Topsfield and the Essex Agricultural Society, sponsor of Topsfield Fair, to post signs for an alternate route to the fair to relieve traffic congestion on the two weekends and the Columbus Day holiday during the fair Oct. 1-10.

The plan, instituted in 1976, was considered a significant factor in reducing tie-ups on Route 1 north, between Danvers and the fairgrounds. Instead of remaining on Route 1 north, fair-goers from Boston and suburbs, including Route 128 traffic, can shift from Route 1 to Route 95 at Peabody and follow a well-marked course to Route 97 in Boxford, turning right for a scenic ride to the fairgrounds. It is suggested that the alternate route be used by northbound traffic during the day and early evening on the fair's opening weekend, October 1 and 2, and on the closing weekend and Columbus Day.

Stamp Show

"Chelmpex 83," the annual stamp exhibition and bourse of the Chelmsford Stamp Club, will be held at Parker Junior High School, Graniteville Road, Chelmsford, on Saturday, Oct. 1, from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Sunday, Oct. 2, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

In conjunction with the centenaries of the Metropolitan Opera and the death of Richard Wagner, the cachet will depict symbols of his opera, "Parsifal." The dove, chalice and musical notation of the Grail motif will be printed in red, blue and black. An enclosed card will give a short history of the controversial first performance of "Parsifal" by the Metropolitan Opera in 1903.

The cover will be franked with the 20¢ Metropolitan Opera commemorative and there will be a special cancellation for each day of the show.

AMC Outing

The Golden Warriors are back at Lovely Field this Saturday for a 1:30 p.m. game against Lowell High.

The Red Raiders, who have won 11 of their last 13 games and have shut out Andover two of the past three years, are undefeated and unscored upon this fall following impressive wins over Central Catholic (8-0) and Haverhill (14-0).

Lowell has an excellent offensive backfield with bulldozer fullback Walt Wrobel (92 yards vs. Central), speedster Chris Savard, Brian Shaughnessy (96 yards vs. Haverhill) and quarterback Tom Broderick (two TD passes).

James Slattery is also a fine two-way player, having caught two touchdown passes and participated in 33 tackles (three sacks) in the first two games.

53 journalists from 16 countries named it Europe's "Car of The Year."

We named it the new Audi 5000S.

Audi When the new Audi 5000S was voted Europe's "Car of The Year," we were, of course, pleased. But we weren't surprised. You won't be either once you drive it.

How many other five-passenger luxury touring sedans can accelerate from zero to 50 in just 8 seconds? Or cut through wind resistance with the impunity of a sports car? Or handle superbly, even in tight-cornering situations?

The new 5000S, with its advanced German engineering, can do all this. And more. In fact, after 6 years of designing and refining and over 3.2 million kilometers of road testing, this just may be the most roadworthy luxury sedan ever built.

The 5000S is also the product of fresh design ideas. For example, the idea of flush-mounted side windows and bonded front and rear windows (which not only help reduce drag but virtually eliminate wind noise).

What's more, you'll like the idea of our new 24-month, unlimited mileage warranty* and the long-term reliability that prompted it.

But, most of all, you'll like driving the new Audi 5000S.

They will provide the way for you to successfully lose weight and keep it off forever. They know the key to permanent weight loss is behavior modification and the very key to Diet Center's program is you never stop coming. They're always there for you.

Diet Center's program is not just a weight reducing program. It is a total program that includes stabilization and lifetime maintenance. In short, it requires a total commitment. Think of Diet Center's program as an insurance policy for never being over weight again.

Whether you have been to Diet

Center before or you're a new-comer, don't feel embarrassed about your weight or gaining back pounds. Remember, weight control/management is a life-time proposition. We all slip up sometimes but don't let it get the best of you. Sue at the Diet Center in North Andover understands; she's had the same problem!

Diet Center offers private, individualized, flexible programs even if you have health restrictions. The professionals at Diet Center will work with your physician to create a program that's right for you.

They teach you good nutrition so you can serve good, healthy, nutritious meals that the whole family will enjoy. Diet Center has something new—delicious crackers in a variety of flavors and Wicker's barbecue sauceto

At the Diet Center you feel great the whole time you're losing weight! And Diet Center Inc., in service for 15 years, is receiving national recognition as a nutritionally sound and safe way to lose weight!

Ellen Newman and Gilda Edelstein opened their 5th Diet Center 3 years ago in Office Park, 451 Andover St., N. Andover. Their other centers are in Haverhill, Salem, N.H., Newburyport and Portsmouth, N.H.

Our Salem, N.H. office has a new manager, Grace Ireland who's lost 45 lbs. through Diet Center's program

So when you're ready to change your eating habits, call Sue at 685-0508. Open Mon.-Fri. 7-11:30 a.m. and 3-5:30 p.m. and Sat. 8:30-10:30 a.m.

A special trip to the Museum of Fine Arts on October 27 is in the planning stage. The exhibit of special interest will be of American artists and will include a guide for every 20 people. Lunch will be at the museum. Since details are not available at press time, you are invited to call the senior center to learn the menu and costs.

The hot lunch program is in full swing at Doherty Junior High. Lunch is at 12:45 and costs 50 cents, but you have to let the senior center know by 9:30 of the morning you plan to attend that you will be there. The center opens at 8:30 in the morning so you may call from then on, but before 9:30 a.m.

The health department is again sponsoring a program of free flu shots on October 20 in the Doherty School cafeteria. No appointments are necessary. There will also be a pneumonia shot given at the cost of $5, but advance arrangements must be made for it. To pre-register for the pneumonia shot, call the public health nurse at 475-7858. You are urged to refer any questions on the clinical aspects of the pneumonia shot to your own physician. Transportation to and from Doherty School will be available in the Council on Aging van for 50 cents, but you must make advance arrangements through the center.

If there is sufficient interest, there will be an additional needlearts class on Tuesdays from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Students at all different stages of proficiency will be accepted. Call the center right now if you are interested.

There are vacancies in many of the classes. Have you thought of joining the line dancing group? It is great fun, mild exercise and you don't need a partner.

THE ULTIMATE VALUE

When you drive past an auto manufacturing plant, the first thing that may come to mind is the products that are made. You visualize cars coming off the assembly line. You might also think of the value of those cars. But remember something else. The value of the LAND on which the plant is located... It exceeds by far the value of one day's production of cars.

A railroad brings to mind giant locomotives, boxcars, tank cars, hopper cars, etc. But when a railroad assesses its own value, a large proportion of its worth is listed in the category of rights-of-way, terminals, marshalling yards, roundhouses, and other land and property holdings.

We mention all this to emphasize the importance of land and property. Its appeal is universal. Throughout history, kings, emperors, and conquerors fought long and bitter wars for the purpose of acquiring more land. It's no wonder then that real estate is thought of as the basis of wealth and power! You don't have to be an emperor to acquire real estate. See us. There's an easier way.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Group Will Examine Lights For Field

With the selectmen's approval, and on the recommendation of Selectman William Dalton, the town manager Monday night appointed a committee to study the possibility of lighting Eugene Lovely Field at Andover High to allow nighttime football games.

The manager appointed John Scileppi, Teresa McAnally, Donald Ellsworth and John Barry, along with acting high school athletic director Richard Bourdelais, to the new committee. Charles Wesson will serve as the selectmen's liaison to the committee, and Municipal Maintenance Director Gerry Dion will represent the town staff.

Selectman Dalton said he would like the committee to "pinpoint the issue" of lighting Lovely Field before branching out to other possibilities, such as lighting the Shawsheen playing fields. The committee should determine whether adding lights would be "cost-effective," Dalton said.

Dalton said he believed that night games would get better attendance — and bring in more revenues — than Saturday games. But unless the committee finds that lighting would "pay for itself or come darn close to it", the idea should be abandoned, he indicated.

The selectman said that Friday night games would give coaches and players Saturdays off, and would free the high school field for other uses as well. Town Manager Kenneth Mahony added that he prefers night games to day games.

Dalton said that in its study, the committee should ask local corporations to contribute to the lighting, and also ask towns such as Lexington whether lighting their football fields has increased attendance at games.
